

Demystifying the Publishing Process

Nancy R. Gough<sup>1</sup>

<sup>1</sup>Science Signaling

Editors from Science Signaling presents tips on how to get published in a Science family journal, including an overview demystifying the submission-to-publication process, the peer-review process, and a discussion of the aims and pitfalls that scientists should consider when writing their research paper. The presentation is aimed at researchers of all levels, from PhD students to tenured faculty, anyone seeking to publish their research findings in a high profile journal.