The Lysophospholipid and Related Mediators Conference: From Bench to Clinic

Organizer Bio: Satoshi Ishii, PhD

Professor, Department of Immunology, Akita University Graduate School of Medicine, Japan

Satoshi Ishii's lab is working on research projects that elucidate roles of G-protein coupled LPA receptors, especially non-Edg LPA receptors, in various biological processes such as hematopoiesis, metabolism and angiogenesis. Dr. Ishii received his PhD at the University of Tokyo under the supervision of Professor Takao Shimizu. He continued to work at the Shimizu lab as a postdoctoral researcher and transitioned internally to a staff position.
